The festival committee proudly present our 26th Festival programme which is yet again full of exciting events offering a diverse range of activities.

The festival provides us with the opportunity to celebrate women's achievements in all spheres of life. But it also allows us to raise awareness of the many issues affecting women, along with promoting local, national and international campaigns.

I would like to take this opportunity to personally thank the festival committee with whom I have had the pleasure of working with for a number of years now. But also to thank all the volunteers who take on a number of roles and without whom we would be 'lost', this years sponsors (Oxford City Council, Ruskin and Unison) and the local media who always give us excellent coverage. Lastly but definitely not less importantly, a big thank you to the individual event organisers and the many hundreds of local residents and visitors who will be attending one if not several events over the two weeks.

Debbie Hollingsworth, Festival Coordinator

Following the success of our Inspirational Oxford Women Award and the subsequent presentation night we are opening up the nomination process for our 2015 award. For a nomination pack and guidelines on what we are looking for, please contact Debbie Hollingsworth (Festival Coordinator) at: oxfordwomen@gmail.com.
